FLOOD TIED — The site of Pacora River bridge, minus the bridge, shows the fury of the worst floods in Panama's history. Three rivers east of Panama City flooded during heavy rains.

Administration Badly Injured By Tuesday Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — The rolling impact of a midterm Republican breakthrough offered a fresh threat today not only to President Johnson's legislative program but possibly to his re-election in 1968.

While the GOP was surging to above-average House gains in Tuesday's nonpresidential year balloting, it also was netting from the Democrats eight governors' offices.

This cemented Republican chief executives into political power bases in at least 25 states which will cast 290 electoral votes two years from now—20 in excess of the 270 needed to elect a president.

As final ballot counts stretched out the measuring tape, it became apparent that Johnson and his Democratic administration had suffered a crippling, though not necessarily lasting, defeat in contests where the President had thought Democrats might do very well.

The fact that Republicans will control at least half of the governorships in the next two years doesn't mean they will be able to maneuver their states into the GOP column in the 1968 presidential contest. Voters have a way of making up their own minds about such matters.

But the mere fact that their party has broadened its base for attack on Johnson's expected re-election bid certainly will make the GOP nomination much more attractive to potential candidates than it has been during the two doleful years since Barry Goldwater's crushing 1964 defeat by Johnson.

Johnson's loss of party strength in Congress was far greater than that sustained by any president two years into his first elective term since GOP President Herbert Hoover's party lost 61 seats in the 1930 off year election.

The Republicans nailed down a gain of 47 seats in the House to bring their total to 187. Democrats elected 248 members.

The President, resting at his Texas ranch, had no comment on House and governorship losses. He passed the word through an aide that he was somewhat surprised at the Republican gain of three in the Senate.

While the Democrats retained 64-36 control there, if the Republicans voted as a unit they held a power they lacked before to kill by themselves any filibustered legislation.

Richard M. Nixon, former GOP vice president whom Johnson sharply attacked a few days before the election, said results of Tuesday's voting were "the sharpest rebuff of a president in a generation."

And Goldwater said Republican victories were the result of an "LBJ backlash." While this assessment was discounted in some quarters, there was evidence of what might be called "anti-Johnson" sentiment in areas as widely separated as Florida and California.

Both of these states elected Republican governors staunchly

'Toplessness' May Contest Nightery Laws

NEW YORK (AP) — Topless waitresses made their first public known appearance in New York City Wednesday night in what may prove to be a test case against local cabaret laws. Police handed out summonses.

Ruby Diamond, 28, who measures 37-26-36, and Mary Rooney who is 24 and 39-24-37, each wore only two black tasseled pasties — about the size of a silver dollar — on their chests as they served patrons in the Crystal Room supper club on the East Side. Each also wore dark tights and short wrap-around aprons.

Gemini 12 Mission Set For Friday

Faulty Autopilot System Corrected At Cape Kennedy

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — After two frustrating delays because of a faulty autopilot system in the astronauts' Titan 2 rocket the Gemini 12 mission today received a green light to blast off Friday on the final flight in the Gemini series.

Technicians checked and rechecked a new autopilot throughout the night and pronounced it in fine working order this morning. Then National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported all launching preparations were progressing smoothly.

Favorable weather was forecast for launch time Friday.

Meanwhile, Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr. and Air Force Maj. Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. continued to practice key phases of their four-day flight in a spacecraft simulator and to bone up on their complex flight plan.

The doubleheader Gemini 12 launching is scheduled to start at 2:08 p.m. EST Friday when an Atlas rocket hurls an Agena satellite into orbit as a rendezvous target. Gemini 12 is to set sail at 3:46 p.m.

Lovell and Aldrin were frustrated on two earlier launching dates — Wednesday and today — by troubles with the autopilot system which is needed to steer the Titan 2 on a true course during the vital six minutes the rocket operates.

Gemini 12 will be the last of the Gemini series, leading to the first earth orbit flight of a three-man Apollo moonship early in 1967.

Lovell and Aldrin plan to wrap up the loose ends of the Gemini program, with a main goal of learning what problems must be overcome before man can effectively operate outside an orbiting ship.

Aldrin is to spend nearly five hours outside the ship — on a two-hour space walk and two "space stands" during which he'll perform photographic and other tasks with the upper half of his body poked through an open hatch.

Maddox Takes Georgia Lead

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Georgia's gubernatorial election appears to be headed for the courts because neither Democrat Lester G. Maddox nor Republican Howard Callaway was able to get a majority of the votes in Tuesday's general election.

The apparent blockade to selection of a successor to Gov. Carl Sanders, a Democrat, was a write-in vote for former Gov. Ellis Arnall.

With 1,863 of 1,886 precincts—98.6 per cent of the votes — reported, Callaway had 437,258 votes, Callaway 435,489, and Arnall 54,939. That gave Maddox 47.1 per cent Callaway 46.9 per cent, and Arnall 5.9 per cent.

Maddox overtook Callaway Wednesday night as return from rural areas trickled in.

Maddox, a segregationist known for selling his restaurant rather than integrating it, had taken an early lead when polls closed Tuesday night, but a large urban vote early Wednesday gave Callaway a 25,000-vote lead.

Under the Georgia constitution, a failure to get a majority throws the election into the General Assembly, which is heavily Democratic.

The American Civil Liberties Union, however, filed suit in federal court Wednesday, contending the Legislature is illegally constituted. A hearing has been set for 9:30 a.m. Friday.

Witness Tells Of Marilyn's Kitchen Guest

CLEVELAND (AP) — An unemployed former bakery truck driver led off defense testimony at the Samuel H. Sheppard murder retrial today with an account of how he saw Marilyn Sheppard, seven months before her slaying, give a key to a man visiting in her kitchen.

"Don't let Sam see this," the witness, Jack Krakan of Byers, Ohio, quoted Sheppard's first wife as telling a "distinguished-looking and well dressed man" of between 50 and 60 years of age.

Krakan, on the stand 20 minutes, said he saw this man twice in the kitchen of the Sheppard house in Bay Village between 9 a. m. and noon and between Dec. 1 and 20, 1953.

"What were they doing?" F. Lee Bailey, defense attorney, asked.

Krakan said that some months after July 4, 1954, when Marilyn Sheppard was bludgeoned in her bedroom he saw five photographs and was able to identify one as that of the man he had seen in the kitchen. But no identification of the man was made in court.

Krakan was not a witness at Sheppard's first trial 12 years ago.

The state rested its case late Wednesday afternoon after the jury of seven men and five women heard 14 witnesses in nine days of testimony.

Chief witnesses expected to be called by Sheppard's chief counsel, F. Lee Bailey, are Dr. Stephen A. Sheppard, Sheppard's brother, and Dr. Paul Leland Kirk, professor of criminalistics and bio-chemistry at the University of California at Berkeley.

Kirk, considered an expert in the field of criminology, examined the bedroom in which Marilyn Sheppard was bludgeoned to death July 4, 1954.

Bailey said in his opening statement that he would show that the person who killed Marilyn held the murder weapon— which never was produced—in the left hand and had the strength of a woman.

Bailey argued that "not one single fact that the state has proven physically contradicts the story, such as it is, that the defendant told."

Sheppard contends he was knocked out in the murder bedroom, came to and chased a "form" to the beach behind his house where he was knocked out again. He says when he regained consciousness waves from Lake Erie were washing over him.

Sheppard contends he went back to the bedroom, leaned his wet trouser leg against the bloody bed and felt Marilyn's pulse at the wrist and at the neck.

The defense says this is how Sheppard's left trouser leg and his watch became stained with blood.

Blackout Meeting Leads to Wedding

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Frederick Steel recalls he met Judith Griffin "by the light of candles and a kerosene lamp" during the great power failure of Nov. 9, 1965.

Miss Griffin had taken her car to Stratford, Conn., to leave it with Steele's roommate, who had promised to have it repaired.

"Somehow she found the place in the dark," said Steele.

Wednesday, on the first anniversary of the big blackout, Steele and Miss Griffin were married. Prudently, they held the ceremony in New Haven, Conn., which escaped last year's blackout.

GOP Foresees Added Luster From Gains in Senate Seats

WASHINGTON (AP) — With heartened Republican leaders already setting their sights on the White House in 1968, the GOP may find its most valuable image-making gain was the new faces it catapulted into the Senate.

The election of Charles H. Percy of Illinois, Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon, Howard H. Baker of Tennessee, Negro Edward W. Brooke of Massachusetts and Robert P. Griffin of Michigan put these young GOP Turks into one of the world's most publicized forums, the Senate of the United States.

Their presence should pump some excitement in to the Senate, as well as the GOP, give the old guard something of a face lifting and present Republican Senate leader Everett M. Dirksen a corps of new talent—as well as a couple potential presidential candidates—to display.

Not that they will be able to turn the tide or be able to make much of an impact on legislation.

With a built-in edge of 50 seats this year, the Democrats will still command nearly a 2-1 majority when the 90th Congress convenes Jan. 10.

All told, the Republicans were able to wrench three seats from Democrats — with Percy, Hatfield and Baker doing the wrenching — out of the 35 that were at stake. Former Congressman Griffin actually was appointed to his seat last May, but had to spend much of his time campaigning in order to win it in his own right Tuesday.

Ohio U Prexy Explains Job In Viet Nam

SAIGON (AP) — "We are not trying to set up an American education system here, but we are trying to show the Vietnamese some of our past experiences so that they may bring about their own system," the president of Ohio University said today.

Vernon R. Alden, whose university supervises a U.S. Government secondary education advisory program here, added, all the problems have not been solved. In fact, we do not even know all the questions."

At a news conference concluding his three-day stay in Viet Nam, the educator said he found the Vietnamese "enthusiastic, hard working, easy to work with and dynamic."

Alden said he would urge students at the Athens, Ohio, campus to go to Viet Nam during vacations to work as volunteers in the school's project.

The advisory program's chief project in the coming months, Alden said, will be to help establish 10 provincial, coeducational high schools, which will be modeled after ones in the United States.

Alden was accompanied on his tour by Dr. Russell Milliken, director of the university's Center for International Programs, and Charles Benton, president of a book firm.

Martha Raye Gets Saigon Citation

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The U.S. Army has presented comedienne Martha Raye a certificate of appreciation for her many trips to Viet Nam to entertain American soldiers.

The presentation was made Wednesday in Saigon by Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of American forces in Viet Nam. It cited Miss Raye for "patriotic civilian service."

Dirksen, who at times seemed in the last Congress to be holding his outmanned lines together mainly with the force of his personality, was jubilant. He hailed the election outcome in the Senate, House and state houses as a great Republican victory heralding a significant, nationwide shift to the GOP.

"It's going to make a tremendous difference in the next Congress," declared Dirksen, who undoubtedly is pleased at the prospect of having son-in-law Baker joining him on the GOP side of the aisle.

But one problem all the new Republicans may have to wrestle with in making their presence known is the Senate tradition that freshmen should be seen but not heard, at least not too much.

Both Kennedy, Humphrey Suffer Home-Base Upsets

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert F. Kennedy, the New Yorker with the magic name, and Hubert H. Humphrey, the vice president who wants a promotion, suffered home-base setbacks in election day's chain of Democratic losses.

Already billed as rivals for the 1972 nomination to succeed President Johnson, Humphrey and Sen. Kennedy proved Tuesday that a politician doesn't have to be on the ballot to lose.

Johnson had the same problem—and his is more immediate. It begins Jan. 10 on Capitol Hill, when the 90th Congress assemblies with a House of Representatives that is virtually certain to put a crimp in his "Great Society" plans.

Humphrey and Kennedy spent the autumn in hectic campaigning, each man out to translate national standing into state votes for Democrats.

Neither achieved notable success.

Kennedy, brother of President John F. Kennedy, rolled into the campaign riding high, with pollsters rating him more popular than President Johnson.

He campaigned for losers in California, Oregon, Michigan, Wisconsin and Illinois.

The crowds were big, but the votes were not there for Democrats Tuesday.

Humphrey, campaigning hard, hit many of the same states. And in his home state of Minnesota, Humphrey saw the Democrat-Farmer-Labor party he helped to organize buffeted by a near-sweep for Republicans.

Gov. Karl F. Rolvaag, who won nomination in the primary after the party convention repudiated him, was ousted by Republican Harold Levander.

Democratic Sen. Walter F. Mondale withstood the Republican tide.

In New York, Kennedy campaigned for Frank D. O'Connor—who was not his original choice as a gubernatorial nominee.

The session was called by Ward Skinner, retail committee chairman. He said it is hoped the schedule suggested will serve as a convenience to shoppers.

Panel Okays Schedule on Store Hours

Members of the Retail Merchants Committee, Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce, today established a suggested schedule for local store hours during the Christmas shopping period.

The retailers, meeting for a breakfast session at Noel's King Boy, recommended the schedule become effective Dec. 9. The program calls for stores to be open each evening, except Sunday, until Christmas.

They also suggested that firms remain open until 9 each evening.

In making additional plans for the near-at-hand Christmas shopping interlude, the merchants adopted a policy calling for stores to remain open on Wednesday afternoons in conjunction with the yule shopping schedule.

The session was called by Ward Skinner, retail committee chairman. He said it is hoped the schedule suggested will serve as a convenience to shoppers.

LBJ, McNamara Confer at Ranch

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara returns to the LBJ Ranch today to confer with President Johnson for the second time in five days.

Flying from Washington with McNamara was Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

The Texas White House said only that the three men would "go over a number of military matters."

Cincinnati Gets 2 Federal Judges

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati, which has gone without a judge in the Southern Ohio U.S. Judicial District for several weeks, finally got one Wednesday.

Cincinnati Atty. Timothy S. Hogan, 57, was sworn in as one of two federal judges to preside here. The other, David S. Porter of Troy, was scheduled to be sworn in at Dayton today.

Yank Casualty List Soars in Tay Ninh Fight

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — An ambush patrol of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division was attacked today by Viet Cong using a nonpoisonous type of tear gas, a spokesman said.

He added that this was the first known firing of gas by the Communists in the Viet Nam war. However, South Vietnamese authorities alleged in September 1965 that the Viet Cong used nausea-inducing gas grenades. The allied forces have used nonlethal types in certain instances for nearly two years.

The Viet Cong attack came in Tay Ninh Province of War Zone C, a battleground area centered 65 miles northwest of Saigon, where Americans have reported more than 800 enemy dead in a week of hard fighting against the Viet Cong's 9th Division. The patrol had settled into its ambush pattern in mated swamp and jungle five miles northeast of Suoi Dau.

No firefight followed and no injuries were reported. The spokesman said the Americans donned gas masks, which are standard combat equipment, at the explosion of the first grenades. The troops were believed to number about 30.

About 1,200 gas grenades were found among 19,000 grenades uncovered by infantrymen sweeping an enemy regimental command and supply complex Wednesday.

Ground action in the area, however, continued to be light. The bloody battle in Tay Ninh Province of one C pushed the toll of American dead in the war to nearly double the number the week before, the weekly casualty report revealed.

The U.S. Command announced that 127 Americans were killed last week, 605 were wounded and eight were missing or captured. The week before 65 Americans were killed and 493 were wounded, according to revised figures issued today.

Both South Vietnamese government and enemy casualties were reduced, but the enemy dead did not include the toll in the most recent fighting in Tay Ninh.

Counterfeiters Operate Near Federal Office

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The Secret Service says almost $2 million in counterfeit $20 bills seized here were made within blocks of its office.

Agents said the "pretty fair" bills were made in the printing department of a business in downtown Atlanta.

Six persons were arrested and their baggage seized at the Atlanta airport Tuesday in what agents called the biggest bogus bill crackdown in the South.

Buckeye Lake Hit By Strong Winds

NEWARK, Ohio (AP) — A strong windstorm which may have been a small tornado struck an area of Buckeye Lake in Licking County near here shortly before noon today.

No one was reported to have been injured, but there were reports the roller-coaster at the popular lake resort had been tumbled into the lake, a few cottages knocked off their foundations, and a number of trees blown down.

Local authorities were making an investigation to determine the amount of damage.

Airlines Sign Pact To Limit Sky Booze

NEW YORK (AP) — After more than six months of discussions aimed at uniformity, seven major airlines have agreed on a code limiting domestic passengers to no more than 4.8 ounces of distilled liquor while in flight.

The agreement, expected to set the pattern for inflight States, is to be filed with the Civil Aeronautics Board.

It was signed Wednesday by American, Braniff International, Central, Continental, Delta, Northeast and Southern Airways. Other carriers are expected to sign industry spokesmen said.

The airlines also decided on a charge of at least $1 for each miniature bottle of 1.6 ounces or its equivalent in all classes except first class where the higher fare covers the drink cost.

Martha Raye Gets Saigon Citation

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The U.S. Army has presented comedienne Martha Raye a certificate of appreciation for her many trips to Viet Nam to entertain American soldiers.

The presentation was made Wednesday in Saigon by Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of American forces in Viet Nam. It cited Miss Raye for "patriotic civilian service."

Dirksen, who at times seemed in the last Congress to be holding his outmanned lines together mainly with the force of his personality, was jubilant. He hailed the election outcome in the Senate, House and state houses as a great Republican victory heralding a significant, nationwide shift to the GOP.

"It's going to make a tremendous difference in the next Congress," declared Dirksen, who undoubtedly is pleased at the prospect of having son-in-law Baker joining him on the GOP side of the aisle.

But one problem all the new Republicans may have to wrestle with in making their presence known is the Senate tradition that freshmen should be seen but not heard, at least not too much.

There were those who said Kennedy would not be happy to see a Republican remain in Albany until 1970. At that point, their reasoning went, Kennedy might well run for the governorship himself.

As a sometime campaigner, Johnson claimed the Republicans were afraid to move ahead, and called the Democrat-heavy 89th Congress history's greatest.

Already billed as rivals for the 1972 nomination to succeed President Johnson, Humphrey and Sen. Kennedy proved Tuesday that a politician doesn't have to be on the ballot to lose.

Johnson had the same problem—and his is more immediate. It begins Jan. 10 on Capitol Hill, when the 90th Congress assembles with a House of Representatives that is virtually certain to put a crimp in his "Great Society" plans.

Humphrey and Kennedy spent the autumn in hectic campaigning, each man out to translate national standing into state votes for Democrats.

Neither achieved notable success. Kennedy, brother of President John F. Kennedy, rolled into the campaign riding high, with pollsters rating him more popular than President Johnson.

He campaigned for losers in California, Oregon, Michigan, Wisconsin and Illinois.

The crowds were big, but the votes were not there for Democrats Tuesday.

Humphrey, campaigning hard, hit many of the same states. And in his home state of Minnesota, Humphrey saw the Democrat-Farmer-Labor party he helped to organize buffeted by a near-sweep for Republicans.

Gov. Karl F. Roivaag, who won nomination in the primary after the party convention repudiated him, was ousted by Republican Harold Levander.

Democratic Sen. Walter F. Mondale withstood the Republican tide.

In New York, Kennedy campaigned for Frank D. O'Connor—who was not his original choice as a gubernatorial nominee—and saw Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller sweep to re-election.

Both Kennedy, Humphrey Suffer Home-Base Upsets

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert F. Kennedy, the New Yorker with the magic name, and Hubert H. Humphrey, the vice president who wants a promotion, suffered home-base setbacks in election day's chain of Democratic losses.

Already billed as rivals for the 1972 nomination to succeed President Johnson, Humphrey and Sen. Kennedy proved Tuesday that a politician doesn't have to be on the ballot to lose.

Yank Casualty List Soars in Tay Ninh Fight

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—An ambush patrol of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division was attacked today by Viet Cong using a nonpoisonous type of tear gas, a spokesman said.

He added that this was the first known firing of gas by the Communists in the Viet Nam war. However, South Vietnamese authorities alleged in September 1965 that the Viet Cong used nausea-inducing gas grenades. The allied forces have used nonlethal types in certain instances for nearly two years.

The Viet Cong attack came in Tay Ninh Province of War Zone C, a battleground area centered 65 miles northwest of Saigon, where Americans have reported more than 800 enemy dead in a week of hard fighting against the Viet Cong's 9th Division.

The patrol had settled into its ambush pattern in mated swamp and jungle five miles northeast of Suoi Dau.

No firefight followed and no injuries were reported. The spokesman said the Americans donned gas masks, which are standard combat equipment, at the explosion of the first grenades. The troops were believed to number about 30.

About 1,200 gas grenades were found among 19,000 grenades uncovered by infantrymen sweeping an enemy regimental command and supply complex Wednesday.

Ground action in the area, however, continued to be light. The bloody battle in Tay Ninh Province of one C pushed the toll of American dead in the war to nearly double the number the week before, the weekly casualty report revealed.

The U.S. Command announced that 127 Americans were killed last week, 605 were wounded and eight were missing or captured. The week before 65 Americans were killed and 493 were wounded, according to revised figures issued today.

Both South Vietnamese government and enemy casualties were reduced, but the enemy dead did not include the toll in the most recent fighting in Tay Ninh.

Counterfeiters Operate Near Federal Office

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The Secret Service says almost $2 million in counterfeit $20 bills seized here were made within blocks of its office.

Agents said the "pretty fair" bills were made in the printing department of a business in downtown Atlanta.

Six persons were arrested and their baggage seized at the Atlanta airport Tuesday in what agents called the biggest bogus bill crackdown in the South.

Buckeye Lake Hit By Strong Winds

NEWARK, Ohio (AP) — A strong windstorm which may have been a small tornado struck an area of Buckeye Lake in Licking County near here shortly before noon today.

No one was reported to have been injured, but there were reports the roller-coaster at the popular lake resort had been tumbled into the lake, a few cottages knocked off their foundations, and a number of trees blown down.

Local authorities were making an investigation to determine the amount of damage.

visited last month, an old French wharf collapsed early today, killing possibly 20 Vietnamese and injuring about 100, a U. S. spokesman reported.

The wharf was crowded with Vietnamese workers awaiting transportation to the U. S. base.

Elsewhere in Viet Nam, U. S. Marines launched Operation Pawnee north of Da Nang, and units from two U. S. infantry divisions continued searching for remnants of the Viet Cong division that was hammered and scattered in Tay Ninh northwest of Saigon.

Bad weather prevented U. S. air strikes against targets in North Viet Nam's Red River delta, but 100 missions of Air Force and Navy planes smashed at staging and storage areas down the southern panhandle.

Korea troops announced they had ended Operation Pierce after killing 1,161 of the enemy.

The casualties last week brought the total of Americans reported killed in combat to 5,823 since the war began and the wounded to 22,544.

The U. S. Command reported 893 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese killed and 199 captured last week, compared with 1,317 killed and 209 captured the week before.

In the air war, Air Force pilots struck 18 military supply areas along the North Vietnamese panhandle Wednesday, destroying 20 buildings, damaging 29 others and setting off 10 secondary explosions, probably of ammunition dumps, a spokesman said.

U. S. Navy pilots flew 42 missions against the panhandle, launching from the carriers Coral Sea, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Constellation, and flying through light to heavy ground fire.

Navy A6A Intruders dropped 500-pound bombs on the Thanh Hoa railroad and highway bridge.

In South Viet Nam, U. S. pilots flew 480 single-plane sorties, hitting enemy camps, troop concentrations and river traffic, and destroying bunkers and trench lines and sealing tunnels, the U. S. command said.

Erhard Party Names Choice For Successor

BONN, Germany (AP) — West Germany's dominant Christian Democratic party today chose Curt George Kiesinger, minister-president of Baden-Wuerttemberg, as its candidate to succeed Chancellor Ludwig Erhard at the head of the federal government.

The decision was taken by the party's membership in the Bundestag.

The candidate must now see if he can win enough votes from other parties to get himself a majority. The Christian Democrats alone are four votes short of the necessary 249 in the Bundestag.

Kiesinger said in a radio broadcast that he would try to deal with both other parties — the Socialists and the Free Democrats — to get a majority in the Bundestag. He himself is not a member, but a seat can be arranged for him.

He asked to be excused from saying anything about his political program.

After the Christian Democrats, the Socialists have the largest delegation in the Bundestag, 202 votes. The Free Democrats have 49.

The West German government's crisis was two weeks old today. The Free Democrats quit Erhard's Cabinet Oct. 27 after refusing to endorse tax increases the chancellor said were needed to balance a 1967 budget weighed with commitments to buy arms in the United States.

Christian Democratic leaders who felt Erhard had proved too indecisive to lead the party seized the opportunity to force him from office. Erhard, abandoned by his party after three years as chancellor and 14 as minister of economics, reluctantly agreed to step down.

Moderates, Conservatives Make Up Reagan Entourage

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ronald Reagan, California's newly elected Republican governor, has surrounded himself with a mixed band of youthful moderates and middle-aged conservatives for his assumption of power in January.

Among the most influential probably will be the new lieutenant governor, Robert Finch, generally considered a moderate although some right-wingers label him liberal. He is the only political pro in Reagan's ranks.

He managed Sen. George Murphy's successful campaign in 1964 and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon's unsuccessful ones for president in 1960 and for California governor against Gov. Edmund G. Brown four years ago.

Reagan realizes Finch's value in government; that his other aides are political amateurs.

Reagan's first two actions pointed up the two sides of his team.

As his executive secretary and "strong right arm," Reagan named Philip M. Battaglia, 31, a Los Angeles attorney and a loyal supporter of U. S. Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel.

Battaglia, Reagan's campaign manager, has argued with conservative Republicans who want to dump Kuchel in 1968.

The wharf was crowded with Vietnamese workers awaiting transportation to the U. S. base. Elsewhere in Viet Nam, U. S. Marines launched Operation Pawnee north of Da Nang, and units from two U. S. infantry divisions continued searching for remnants of the Viet Cong division that was hammered and scattered in Tay Ninh northwest of Saigon.

Bad weather prevented U. S. air strikes against targets in North Viet Nam's Red River delta, but 100 missions of Air Force and Navy planes smashed at staging and storage areas down the southern panhandle.

Korea troops announced they had ended Operation Pierce Tiger after killing 1,161 of the enemy.

The casualties last week brought the total of Americans reported killed in combat to 5,823 since the war began and the wounded to 22,544.

The U. S. Command reported 893 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese killed and 199 captured last week, compared with 1,317 killed and 209 captured the week before.

In the air war, Air Force pilots struck 18 military supply areas along the North Vietnamese panhandle Wednesday, destroying 20 buildings, damaging 29 others and setting off 10 secondary explosions, probably of ammunition dumps, a spokesman said.

U. S. Navy pilots flew 42 missions against the panhandle, launching from the carriers Coral Sea, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Constellation, and flying through light to heavy ground fire.

Navy A6A Intruders dropped 500-pound bombs on the Thanh Hoa railroad and highway bridge.

In South Viet Nam, U. S. pilots flew 480 single-plane sorties, hitting enemy camps, troop concentrations and river traffic, and destroying bunkers and trench lines and sealing tunnels, the U. S. command said.

Erhard Party Names Choice For Successor

BONN, Germany (AP)—West Germany's dominant Christian Democratic party today chose Curt George Kiesinger, minister-president of Baden-Wuerttemberg, as its candidate to succeed Chancellor Ludwig Erhard at the head of the federal government.

The decision was taken by the party's membership in the Bundestag.

The candidate must now see if he can win enough votes from other parties to get himself a majority. The Christian Democrats alone are four votes short of the necessary 249 in the Bundestag.

Kiesinger said in a radio broadcast that he would try to deal with both other parties—the Socialists and the Free Democrats—to get a majority in the Bundestag. He himself is not a member, but a seat can be arranged for him.

He asked to be excused from saying anything about his political program.

After the Christian Democrats, the Socialists have the largest delegation in the Bundestag, 202 votes. The Free Democrats have 49.

The West German governmental crisis was two weeks old today. The Free Democrats quit Erhard's Cabinet Oct. 27 after refusing to endorse tax increases the chancellor said were needed to balance a 1967 budget weighed with commitments to buy arms in the United States.

Christian Democratic leaders who felt Erhard had proved too indecisive to lead the party seized the opportunity to force him from office. Erhard, abandoned by his party after three years as chancellor and 14 as minister of economics, reluctantly agreed to step down.

Stocks Gain At Opening

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market advanced in active trading at the opening today.

Sears, Roebuck was up at 47 1/2 on a block of 1,800 shares. On Wednesday, The Associated Press 60-stock average advanced 1.9 to 296.2.

Youth Runs Into Auto

Dwight Brigner, of 207 E. High St., 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Brigner, was injured Wednesday evening when he ran into a moving car. The auto was driven by Margaret E. Uhl, 22, Wilson Trailer Court.

Police said Brigner suffered numerous abrasions. He was taken to Berger Hospital where he was treated and released.

Moderates, Conservatives Make Up Reagan Entourage

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Ronald Reagan, California's newly elected Republican governor, has surrounded himself with a mixed band of youthful moderates and middle-aged conservatives for his assumption of power in January.

Among the most influential probably will be the new lieutenant governor, Robert Finch, generally considered a moderate although some right-wingers label him liberal. He is the only political pro in Reagan's ranks. He managed Sen. George Murphy's successful campaign in 1964 and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon's unsuccessful ones for president in 1960 and for California governor against Gov. Edmund G. Brown four years ago.

Reagan realizes Finch's value in government; that his other aides are political amateurs.

Reagan's first two actions pointed up the two sides of his team.

As his executive secretary and "strong right arm," Reagan named Philip M. Battaglia, 31, a Los Angeles attorney and a loyal supporter of U.S. Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel. Battaglia, Reagan's campaign manager, has argued with conservative Republicans who want to dump Kuchel in 1968.

A.C. Rubel of Los Angeles, a former oil company president associated with conservative causes, was named chairman of a task force to screen prospective appointees.

Reagan noted Wednesday that Rubel had fought in 1958 for a state right-to-work law, a law the governor-elect opposed. Reagan said he didn't think this would cause conflicts or interfere with Rubel's usefulness on the task force.

Beale St. Landmark

Back before World War I, W. C. Handy made Beale Street the home of the blues. The place thrived with music that was good to the ears and made sense.

But Handy and the other jazzmen moved north, taking their talents to a wider audience, and Beale Street went mute. Beale Street is a slum now, the worst in Memphis, and the target of a $20-million urban renewal project, wouldn't you know?

For a while bulldozers and jackhammers will make a new kind of music

there and in the new buildings tapes and records and perhaps some live musicians will fill the air with the sounds of the 60's.

Beale Street will be just another place, but to protect its memory it has been proclaimed a national landmark. This is a new gimmick that seems to be applied to terrain with reckless abandon.

This may be a nice gesture, but it is the kind of note that brings on the blues for the past.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Our 15-year-old daughter was having difficulty in her studies. She became depressed and moody and simply stopped talking to us, her parents, and to her older brother. With the help of the school psychologist she was finally convinced that she needed some emotional help.

We are happy that she consented but we have been in total darkness since she began seeing a psychotherapist four months ago. We can't understand why we cannot have any talks with her doctor to find out how she is. Don't we as parents, deserve the comfort of knowing that our child's condition is not a serious one and is being correctly treated?

Mrs. K. B. Massachusetts
Dear Mrs. B.: As parents you have been remarkably wise to direct your daughter to someone who could give her the emotional support she needs. It takes a great deal of insight for parents to realize that they cannot, without bias, solve their own child's problem.

The first step towards her recovery from the periods of depression has been made by her with your help. Now you must be patient.

There are some schools of psychiatry that believe in bringing the family into the picture and openly discussing all phases of their child's condition, with them. There are many more schools of thought which insist that the greatest progress can be made if the relationship between the doctor and his patient does not immediately include the rest of the family.

You can be sure that if the doctor felt that there was any problem of urgency or special concern he would in some way communicate with you. The psychoanalyst's judgment must be depended on if your child is to obtain the maximum benefits, especially during these early stages of developing trust and faith in the doctor.

The comfort you can take is that your child's condition is in the hands of one who is specially sensitive and trained in the art of finding deeply hidden problems and in helping your child to be free of them.

By your patience you are giving your child the best possible advantage of thriving under the care of her doctor.

What is the importance of the pollen count that one hears every day on radio? What do the numbers mean?

Mr. R. A., Virginia
Dear Mr. A.: There is a great deal of confusion about the importance of the pollen count. It has been overemphasized to the point that it now is almost as necessary as the daily weather report about the tidal waves in Tahiti.

If someone is allergic, the number of times he sneezes does not depend on how he interprets the numbers one to ten of the pollen count.

Laff-A-Day

"I hope you folks don't mind—I'm kind of pressed for time this afternoon!"

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

AN EASTERN visitor turned up at a big cattle ranch in Montana and asked the owner what he called the ranch. "Our family had quite a fight over just that subject," admitted the ranch owner, "and we ended up by trying the please everybody. So this here ranch is named the Triple-X, Lucky Seven, Diamond T Bar, Lazy Mary Ranch."

"That's quite a name," chuckled the visitor, "but where are all the cattle?" "Ain't none," sighed the owner. "Not one of them critters has survived the branding."

Alan King claims that on a Sunday evening, his wife watches "What's My Line" (good girl, she!) the news, the Late Show, the Late Show, sings the "Star-Spangled Banner," then watches the station's test pattern until it finally fades from view. That's the moment when she turns her attention to Alan. "If they left it to me," adds Mr. King, "they'd have television 24 hours a day."

FISH STORIES . . . Americans consume one pound of fish for every 17 pounds of meat; in protein value, fish is just as nourishing as meat . . . Some fish in streams feed exclusively on seeds dropped from trees overhanging the water . . . Many sharks, unlike most fish, give birth to living young . . . The 150-ton Blue Whale is larger than the largest dinosaur of prehistoric times . . . Most fish travel widely, but the goldfish is the only fish that travels around the globe. And thank you, Mr. Himmelf!

Dear Abby: 'Lady's Choice' Is Her Husband

DEAR ABBY: When my husband and I were dating, we went dancing at least twice a week. After eight years and two children, we don't dance much, but when we do, my husband will dance one dance with me and spend the rest of the evening dancing with someone else's wife. Their husbands sit, so I sit, too.

I love to dance and people say I am a very good dancer, but it's getting so that I dread the thought of going where I know there will be dancing. I went to bed last night asking for God's help, and finally crying in my pillow. I couldn't sleep, so I am writing to you. What should I do?

James Bond's Success Revives Series Movies

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — What hath James Bond wrought? The return of the series movie, for one thing.

Two and three decades ago, every studio had its series — films with the same characters that could be counted on to bolster the annual product. The most successful was MGM's Hardy family.

The series began in 1937 with "You're Only Young Once," which proved so popular that a sequel was ordered. The Hardy develop such new stars as Lana Turner, Judy Garland, Donna Reed and Esther Williams. The series ended after the war when twice-married Mickey Rooney as Andy Hardy seemed too mature to be getting fatherly advice from the old judge, Lewis Stone.

Series films disappeared from the movie scene in the wake of television. The studios reasoned that audiences saw enough continuing characters on the home screen. But the intrepid 007 changed all that.

The Bond pictures have proved fantastically successful. According to Variety, domestic rental fees to United Artists have risen successively: "Dr. No," $4,655,000; "From Russia With Love," $8,400,000; "Goldfinger," $19,700,000. The returns from "Thunderball" are estimated at $25 million from this country; an equal amount is expected from overseas.

Naturally other studios sought to cash in on the Bondomania. Fox unleashed James Coburn as "Our Man Flint" and the results were amazing: an estimated $14 to 15 million worldwide gross. "In Like Flint" has now been filmed, and another Flint flick is in the works.

Columbia cast Dean Martin as Matt Helm in "The Silencers" and Martin happily reports a $9 million gross. He recently completed another Helm epic, "Murderer's Row," and a half-dozen more are planned.

Universal has brought back Bulldog Drummond with some modern touches in "Deadlier than the Male." The movie stars Richard Johnson and may spark a series.

Most of the new series produce only a film a year. It was different in the old days. The most prolific studio of all was Monogram, which poured forth endless numbers of Bowery Boys, Joe Palooka, Maggie and Jiggs and other series.

Fox countered MGM's hit series with the Jones family, but the Joneses couldn't keep up with the Hardys. Also from the Fox stable: Charlie Chan, Cisco Kid, Mr. Belvedere. MGM had its Tarzans and pre-television Lassie, Thin Man and Dr. Kildare. RKO had its Mexican Spitfire, Scattergood Baines and the Saint.

Columbia had a whole stable of detectives, including the Crime Doctor, Lone Wolf and Boston Blackie, as well as the highly successful Blondie series. Universal struck it rich with Ma and Pa Kettle, Francis the Talking Mule, the Frankenstein-Dracula-Mummy horror film, Sherlock Holmes, etc. Paramount had the Hope-Crosby-Lamour roads and Hopalong Cassidy, and Warners strung along with Torchy Blane and Philo Vance.

Polls Call Elections With Fair Accuracy

NEW YORK (AP) — The opinion takers, both the part-time amateurs and the full-time professionals, had cause to rejoice today.

For every race the pollsters missed, they could point to three big winners, including two startling upsets.

On the basis of incomplete and unofficial returns, pre-election polls in 21 races picked 17 winners, and missed in 4.

One of the most prestigious polls, the straw vote conducted by the New York Daily News, was among the losers.

The News, which had called 23 of 25 previous elections correctly, picked Democrat Frank D. O'Connor to win the governorship of New York by a narrow margin. But he lost to Republican Nelson A. Rockefeller.

The Buffalo Courier-Express, in a poll of Erie and Niagara counties, picked O'Connor and he carried both areas. The Syracuse Herald-Journal, in a poll limited to Onondaga County had Rockefeller and O'Connor tied, each with 42.5 per cent. O'Connor carried the county by more than 20,000 votes.

The only New York poll that picked the winner was the straw vote conducted by the Albany Times-Union.

Two major upsets were predicted by pre-election voter samples. A straw vote conducted jointly by the Hutchinson News, the Salina Journal, and the Garden City Telegram said Robert Docking would become the first Democrat in Kansas' history to defeat a Republican governor for a second term — and he did. Separate mail polls conducted by two Wichita television stations, KAKE-TV and KARD-TV, also concluded that William H. Avery wouldn't win the second term Kansas has traditionally given its Republican governors.

The other big upset forecast by the polls came in North Carolina's 4th Congressional District. The First Research Corp. poll for the Democratic party and the John H. Friend Co. sampling for the Republicans both predicted the victory of Republican James C. Gardner, a young Rocky Mount businessman, over Democrat Harold D. Cooley, chairman of the powerful House Agriculture Committee, and the district's congressman for 32 consecutive years.

Johnson Program Faces New Congressional Woes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Restoration of the Republican-Southern Democratic coalition to a dominant position in the House means that the Democratic leadership will have its hands full winning financing for existing "Great Society" programs, let alone starting any new ones.

This became clear today as Republican leaders studied the addition of 47 new members to GOP House forces. Late returns from Tuesday's elections left the Democrats' numerical majority at 248 to 187, compared with 295 to 140 in the 89th Congress.

House GOP Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan set the Republican keynote with a prediction that the 90th Congress would see "more prudent and frugal use of the taxpayers' money because of the increase in Republican members."

Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin, chairman of the House Republican Conference, also talked of fiscal responsibility through reduction of existing programs, although he also mentioned the possibility of "an equitable tax increase."

While GOP sources pointed out that Ford has made it clear he will not get out of his way to secure Southern Democrats, their natural instincts undoubtedly will throw them together as in the past on crucial House votes.

And a spate of Republican victories over moderate Southern Democrats, such as Reps. James A. Mackay of Georgia, George W. Grider of Tennessee and James W. Trimble of Arkansas, left virtually all Southern seats in the hands of opponents of the administration's domestic program.

Most endangered by the conservative gains in the House are the demonstration cities program, the National Teachers Corps, rent supplements and the antipoverty program — four key measures in a Johnson program which also consisted of such long-considered measures as medicare and federal aid to education.

While President Johnson is expected to go all out to assure these programs are financed, it is uncertain how much more he will ask Congress to do.

An increase in Social Security benefits seems certain to win approval, and a modest civil rights bill covering protection for civil rights workers in the South might get through, possibly attached to an antiriot provision added by the House last summer to the ill-fated 1966 civil rights bill.

Orbiter 2's Positioning Due Today

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Scientists say the 10-minute burn of a small rocket is all they need today to lock America's Lunar Orbiter 2 spacecraft in the grasp of the moon's gravity.

The 100-pound-thrust rocket's short snort was set for 3:30 p.m. EST, when the 850-pound photographic package passes close to the moon, scientists said.

Controllers operating at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory said the craft would be turned around to face its rocket in the direction of flight.

But it's a delicate maneuver, they added, because too much boost could drop it onto the moon and not enough could let it sail past, in the wrong orbit.

More than a hundred snowy owls were seen in Wisconsin during the winter of 1960-61.

Polls Call Elections With Fair Accuracy

NEW YORK (AP) — The opinion takers, both the part-time amateurs and the full-time professionals, had cause to rejoice today.

For every race the pollsters missed, they could point to three big winners, including two startling upsets.

On the basis of incomplete and unofficial returns, pre-election polls in 21 races picked 17 winners, and missed in 4.

One of the most prestigious polls, the straw vote conducted by the New York Daily News, was among the losers.

The News, which had called 23 of 25 previous elections correctly, picked Democrat Frank D. O'Connor to win the governorship of New York by a narrow margin. But he lost to Republican Nelson A. Rockefeller.

The Buffalo Courier-Express, in a poll of Erie and Niagara counties, picked O'Connor and he carried both areas. The Syracuse Herald-Journal, in a poll limited to Onondaga County had Rockefeller and O'Connor tied, each with 42.5 per cent. O'Connor carried the county by more than 20,000 votes.

The only New York poll that picked the winner was the straw vote conducted by the Albany Times-Union.

Two major upsets were predicted by pre-election voter samples. A straw vote conducted jointly by the Hutchinson News, the Salina Journal, and the Garden City Telegram said Robert Docking would become the first Democrat in Kansas' history to defeat a Republican governor for a second term — and he did. Separate mail polls conducted by two Wichita television stations, KAKE-TV and KARD-TV, also concluded that William H. Avery wouldn't win the second term Kansas has traditionally given its Republican governors.

The other big upset forecast by the polls came in North Carolina's 4th Congressional District. The First Research Corp. poll for the Democratic party and the John H. Friend Co. sampling for the Republicans both predicted the victory of Republican James C. Gardner, a young Rocky Mount businessman, over Democrat Harold D. Cooley, chairman of the powerful House Agriculture Committee, and the district's congressman for 32 consecutive years.

Weekly Food Review

NEW YORK (AP) — Winter and housewives' boycotts are extending an icy finger into the supermarkets.

Snow and subfreezing weather have cut into the last of the apple crop in New York, and frosty weather has limited potato digging in Idaho.

Even Florida has been touched by freezing weather, causing light damage to some vegetable crops.

It adds up to diminishing supplies of fresh fruits and vegetables, and thus higher prices.

Meanwhile, armies of women have been picketing and boycotting foodstores in an attempt to force lower prices.

William G. Hildebrand, executive director of the New York State Food Merchants Association, said the demonstrations really caused a 10 per cent decline in business of picketed stores.

Sales of the nation's food chains were up 6 per cent from 1965 in the week ended Oct. 29. The two previous weeks they had been up 9 and 10 per cent.

In Pennsylvania, two retail milk operators have taken advantage of the protests over food prices to set up cut-rate milk stores, selling milk for 79 cents a gallon.

That is 21 cents below the control level, and the Pennsylvania Milk Control Commission which sets minimum retail prices, has ordered an investigation.

Housewives in some areas have called off their boycotts, but others still are springing up from New York to Hawaii.

New York City Councilman Matthew J. Troy Jr. has called for a one-day boycott of all chain food stores during the week before Thanksgiving.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — How President Johnson sweats out the 1968 elections will be one of the most fascinating spectacles of the next two years.

Johnson, to this writer, is not quite the same self-assured man who won the presidency overwhelmingly on his own in 1964.

If he wants to run for re-election in 1968, his two main talking points will be his record with this new, but still Democratic controlled Congress and his foreign record, particularly with the war in Viet Nam.

In the newly elected Congress the Republicans will have more seats, the Democrats fewer, although the latter, still retaining their majority, will be in charge.

The difference in party members will make it tougher for Johnson to get what he wants, which may be a little disquieting for him, in view of what happened these past two years.

He did remarkably well with this last Congress in 1965, less well in 1966. The decline in his influence there paralleled the decline of his popularity in the public opinion polls.

Like Harry S. Truman, who took over the presidency after Franklin D. Roosevelt's death, Johnson inherited a great reservoir of sympathy and cooperation when he became President after John F. Kennedy's death in 1963.

It was a natural public reaction toward a new man in a tough job under tragic circumstances. It eroded faster for Truman than for Johnson who had to try for election on his own sooner than Truman. He did excessively well.

Then, with a Congress packed with Democrats in 1965, many grateful because he carried them into office with him, he got tremendous new programs through, some of them unfinished.

ished business from Kennedy's time.

Then gradually the polls showed Johnson's popularity diminishing. Most people have to depend for their impression of a president on how he seems on television.

Johnson is not at his best there for various reasons: The corny nature of much of his speech-writers' prose, the extreme over-use of the pronoun "I," and the far too much over-baked facial expressions which make him seem self-consciously anxious every minute for approval.

Kennedy, more adroit in public, made his audience feel assured and relaxed. It was not the other way around. With Johnson an audience feels tense, and often critical.

Before the political campaigns began to reach their peak in mid-October, it was known some of the Democratic candidates were in trouble and could well use the kind of help Johnson could give: a visit, a speech, an endorsement.

One of the secrets of Johnson's political success has been doing favors for politicians whose help he might need later. Besides, it would have been a natural and expected ritual for a president to campaign for his party.

But a strange thing happened, foreshadowing perhaps other changes in Johnson's tactics. Instead of campaigning, he made a 17-day trip to Asia, although it seems reasonable to believe this might have waited until after election.

Among other questions his action produced this one about a man of such endless energy and political enthusiasm as Johnson: Was he afraid he would appear repudiated if he campaigned for candidates who lost?

This wasn't the only strange occurrence. Another was his sudden, fierce denunciation of his constant critic, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon. It was Johnson's most personal attack on a political opponent.

What made it strange was that he has always carefully avoided this kind of performance. Perhaps the exhausting Asian trip had frayed his nerves. But these two events don't seem like the Johnson of old.

Gradually in the next two years a different kind of Johnson may emerge.

Weekly Food Review

NEW YORK (AP) — Winter and housewives' boycotts are extending an icy finger into the supermarkets.

Snow and subfreezing weather have cut into the last of the apple crop in New York, and frosty weather has limited potato digging in Idaho.

Even Florida has been touched by freezing weather, causing light damage to some vegetable crops.

It adds up to diminishing supplies of fresh fruits and vegetables, and thus higher prices.

Meanwhile, armies of women have been picketing and boycotting foodstores in an attempt to force lower prices.

William G. Hildebrand, executive director of the New York State Food Merchants Association, said the demonstrations yally caused a 10 per cent decline in business of picketed stores.

Sales of the nation's food chains were up 6 per cent from 1965 in the week ended Oct. 29. The two previous weeks they had been up 9 and 10 per cent.

In Pennsylvania, two retail milk operators have taken advantage of the protests over food prices to set up cut-rate milk stores, selling milk for 79 cents a gallon.

That is 21 cents below the control level, and the Pennsylvania Milk Control Commission which sets minimum retail prices, has ordered an investigation.

Housewives in some areas have called off their boycotts, but others still are springing up from New York to Hawaii.

New York City Councilman Matthew J. Troy Jr. has called for a one-day boycott of all chain food stores during the week before Thanksgiving.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — How President Johnson sweats out the 1968 elections will be one of the most fascinating spectacles of the next two years.

Johnson, to this writer, is not quite the same self-assured man who won the presidency overwhelmingly on his own in 1964.

If he wants to run for re-election in 1968, his two main talking points will be his record with this new, but still Democratic controlled Congress and his foreign record, particularly with the war in Viet Nam.

In the newly elected Congress the Republicans will have more seats, the Democrats fewer, although the latter, still retaining their majority, will be in charge.

The difference in party members will make it tougher for Johnson to get what he wants, which may be a little disquieting for him, in view of what happened these past two years.

He did remarkably well with this last Congress in 1965, less well in 1966. The decline in his influence there paralleled the decline of his popularity in the public opinion polls.

Like Harry S. Truman, who took over the presidency after Franklin D. Roosevelt's death, Johnson inherited a great reservoir of sympathy and cooperation when he became President after John F. Kennedy's death in 1963.

It was a natural public reaction toward a new man in a tough job under tragic circumstances. It eroded faster for Truman than for Johnson who had to try for election on his own sooner than Truman. He did excessively well.

Then, with a Congress packed with Democrats in 1965, many grateful because he carried them into office with him, he got tremendous new programs through, some of them unfinished business from Kennedy's time.

Then gradually the polls showed Johnson's popularity diminishing. Most people have to depend for their impression of a president on how he seems on television.

Johnson is not at his best there for various reasons: The corny nature of much of his speech-writers' prose, the extreme over-use of the pronoun "I," and the far too much over-baked facial expressions which make him seem self-consciously anxious every minute for approval.

Kennedy, more adroit in public, made his audience feel assured and relaxed. It was not the other way around. With Johnson an audience feels tense, and often critical.

Before the political campaigns began to reach their peak in mid-October, it was known some of the Democratic candidates were in trouble and could well use the kind of help Johnson could give: a visit, a speech, an endorsement.

One of the secrets of Johnson's political success has been doing favors for politicians whose help he might need later. Besides, it would have been a natural and expected ritual for a president to campaign for his party.

But a strange thing happened, foreshadowing perhaps other changes in Johnson's tactics. Instead of campaigning, he made a 17-day trip to Asia, although it seems reasonable to believe this might have waited until after election.

Among other questions his action produced this one about a man of such endless energy and political enthusiasm as Johnson: Was he afraid he would appear repudiated if he campaigned for candidates who lost?

This wasn't the only strange occurrence. Another was his sudden, fierce denunciation of his constant critic, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon. It was Johnson's most personal attack on a political opponent.

What made it strange was that he has always carefully avoided this kind of performance. Perhaps the exhausting Asian trip had frayed his nerves. But these two events don't seem like the Johnson of old.

Gradually in the next two years a different kind of Johnson may emerge.

Ohio's Negroes Gain Strength

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Negroes came out of Ohio's election with a bigger voice in state politics.

But it was Ohio's new apportionment system and not racial or civil rights developments that brought it about.

Reapportionment broke big counties into "neighborhood" districts which resulted in some that were predominantly Negro.

Unofficial results from Tuesday's balloting showed there will be nine Negroes in the House and two in the Senate, largest representation in modern history. The last session included two Negro House members and one Senator.

Of the 11 in the new legislature, only one—Rep. David D. Albritton of Dayton—defeated a white opponent. Albritton also is the only Republican in the group. He won a fourth consecutive term by defeating Democrat Samuel M. Carpenter.

Besides Albritton, the only other Negro incumbent winning again was Rep. Carl B. Stokes, Cleveland, elected to his third straight term without opposition. Stokes narrowly was defeated when he ran for mayor of Cleveland last year.

The two Negro senators are M. Morris Jackson of Cleveland and Calvin C. Johnson of Cincinnati, both of whom defeated Negroes in predominantly Negro districts.

The only Negro in the present Senate, Robert C. Blackburn of Dayton, was killed in an automobile accident shortly after the end of the last session.

Joining Albritton and Stokes in the lower chamber will be William F. Bowen, former Cincinnati leader and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, and William L. Mallory, Cincinnati, leader of a civil rights group called the West End Community Council.

The others all are Democratic newcomers: Thomas E. Hill, Larry G. Smith, and Troy Lee James, all of Cleveland, Phale D. Hale of Columbus, and C.J. McLin Jr. Dayton.

Several white incumbents in the House and Senate had Negro opposition but none was seriously challenged. They included Rep. Clara Weisenborn, R-Montgomery and Rep. Terry O'Shaughnessy, D-Franklin both of whom ran for the Senate and were elected.

Romney Is Indefinite About Plans for 1968

DETROIT (AP) — Gov. George Romney, scoring a landslide victory for his third term, said Wednesday he has made no decision on whether he will seek the 1968 presidential nomination.

Romney told a news conference that the Republican victories across the nation mean that Congress will not be a rubber stamp for the Johnson administration.

"They (the victories) will restore Congress to its proper legislative role," Romney declared.

Asked when he might make a decision on the possibility of seeking the Republican presidential nomination, Romney replied, "I will let you know."

He said he was highly complimented that his name was even being considered but added: "I have made no decision in that direction."

The 59-year old Romney said

Common Christian Bible Is Aim of Pope's Order

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican announced Tuesday that Pope Paul VI has given orders for the Roman Catholic Church to work with Protestants, Anglicans and Orthodox Catholics to produce a common Bible for all Christians.

A common Bible for the world's Christians has long been a dream of the ecumenical movement to bring the churches together.

The announcement said the Pope, in implementing a decision of the Vatican Ecumenical Council, had entrusted the task to the Vatican Secretariat of Christian Unity.

The various Catholic conferences of bishops around the world have been sent questionnaires asking information on the "needs, possibilities and difficulties of each area with regard to Bible translation and distribution," the announcement added.

An American priest, the Rev. Walter M. Abbott, has been named to direct Catholic participation in the study.

Father Abbott was born in Boston, Mass., in 1923. He will represent the Vatican Unity Secretariat at a meeting Nov. 14-16 of the American Bible Society's Advisory Council. The meeting will discuss cooperation with the Catholic Church in various countries.

NEW YORK (AP) — CBS played a dirty trick on television's small fry viewers Wednesday night. It broadcast Red Skelton's special "Clown Alley" in its 10 p.m. spot—and on a school night, too.

If ever there was a show that the very young ones could enjoy and understand, it was this hour of traditional broad humor. It was shot on dialogue but abounded in sight gags, explosions, water fights and a lot of running around and falling down.

Skelton, in his Freddie Freeloader character, was head man. He was assisted by performers like Martha Raye, Audrey Meadows, Jackie Coogan and Vincent Price, all of whom appeared throughout completely concealed under heavy clown makeup and costumes.

Many of the bits were as old as vaudeville—a dentist chair scene concluding with the extraction of an enormous tooth, a sequence built around a near-sighted sharp shooter, and a bunch of short scenes like a clown in scuba gear being asked what he had been doing.

"Skin diving," he said, pulling something resembling skin from a basket.

In addition there was an animal act starring a little plaid elephant named Sabu and a comedy wire walking act by Tony Fossett.

While the show was a gay treat for older people, it should have been seen at an earlier hour since kids enjoy slapstick more than any other kind of humor.

NBC, as anticipated, will drop "The Roger Miller show" from its Monday night schedule early by a new comedy series called "Captain Nice."

The pending demise of the variety show, caused primarily by competition by two top-rated programs, "The Lucy Show" and "Rat Patrol," has been expected for weeks. Its replacement, while rumored, is a bit of a surprise. The series is still another in a long series of spoofs which, quite frankly, have not done well this season.

"Get Smart's" success last season kicked off this trend. That comedy series is still doing well, but "Batman" has dropped off in the ratings. "The Hero" and "Run, Buddy, Run," two new series in the spoof category, have received cancellation notices.

CBS will also add a comedy series built around the same general idea in the half-hour preceding "Captain Nice" on Monday nights. That will be "Mr. Terrific," another average citizen who turns superman from time to time. By a marvelous coincidence, both shows will make their debuts on Jan. 9.

Cancellation of the Miller show brings the number of departing shows to 11—the highest mid-season casualty list in TV history.

No Comfort for Hanoi in Results of Election

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tuesday's elections offered scant comfort today to leaders in Peking and Hanoi who had hoped they would reflect a weakening of American support for the war in Viet Nam.

While the Republicans picked up three Senate seats from the Democrats, Viet Nam policy figured importantly in only one overturn.

And computers came up with the verdict that the new House will have 12 more hawks — advocates of escalating the war — as against only two new peace-seeking doves.

As House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan viewed heavy GOP gains in that body, the result was "a clear signal to Hanoi that the House will take a much stronger stand on prosecuting the war in Viet Nam."

Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, head of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee, declared that the outcome "has made it abundantly clear we mean business in Viet Nam."

They joined with GOP National Chairman Ray C. Bliss in denying Viet Nam had been an election issue — attributing the results largely to dissatisfaction with Johnson's economic policies.

Residents of Dearborn, Mich., a Detroit suburb, in an outright referendum, voted 20,687 to 14,124 their disapproval of a ceasefire and withdrawal of U.S. troops from Viet Nam.

Rep. Robert Duncan, D-Ore., who made all-out support of President Johnson's military program in Southeast Asia the basis of his campaign for the Senate, called his race against GOP Gov. Mark O. Hatfield a referendum on the war.

But the victorious Hatfield denied this. Although Hatfield advocated increased efforts to ward a negotiated peace, he argued the contest involved many other issues.

Romney Is Indefinite About Plans for 1968

DETROIT (AP) — Gov. George Romney, scoring a landslide victory for his third term, said Wednesday he has made no decision on whether he will seek the 1968 presidential nomination.

Romney told a news conference that the Republican victories across the nation mean that Congress will not be a rubber stamp for the Johnson administration.

Asked when he might make a decision on the possibility of seeking the Republican presidential nomination, Romney replied, "I will let you know."

He said he was highly complimented that his name was even being considered but added: "I have made no decision in that direction."

The 59-year old Romney said that GOP victories at the polls would unify the Republican party as a vital force in a sound two-party structure.

Romney disclosed he already had talked with California Gov.-elect Ronald Reagan about achieving unity in the party.

Reagan is considered to be a favorite of party conservatives who backed former Sen. Barry Goldwater in his unsuccessful bid for the presidency in 1964.

Romney refused to endorse Goldwater's candidacy two years ago.

The governor also said he had been in contact since Tuesday night with other national GOP figures, including New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, Oregon Sen.-elect Mark O. Hatfield, Illinois Sen.-elect Charles H. Percy, New York Mayor John V. Lindsay, and Massachusetts Sen.-elect Edward W. Brooke.

Plenty of Turkeys, Federation Declares

WASHINGTON (AP) — Although the average American is gobbling down more and more turkey each year, supplies are plentiful for the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays.

A spokesman for the National Turkey Federation and the Poultry and Egg National Board said today current per capita consumption of turkey is estimated at 7.9 pounds, compared with 7.4 pounds last year and 6.2 pounds in 1960.

No Comfort for Hanoi in Results of Election

While the Republicans picked up three Senate seats from the Democrats, Viet Nam policy figured importantly in only one overturn.

GOP Governors Emerge With Hint of Renewed Power

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican governors have moved into prime position to pick the party's 1968 presidential nominee after their smashing victories Tuesday.

Prospects brightened, too, that the nominee will emerge from their ranks.

The GOP governors climbed into the driver's seat by winning in 25 states in Tuesday's elections. These have an electoral total of 290, more than enough to elect a president. And among the 25 are five of the nation's most populous: California, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Michigan.

By winning big in Michigan, Gov. George Romney moved into the first rank in the nomination sweepstakes. And by taking California from veteran Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown, newcomer Ronald Reagan all at once became a man to reckon with in party circles.

Two other winning Republican governors, Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and James A. Rhodes of Ohio, also are likely to have a greater voice at the GOP convention in 1968.

Rockefeller has ruled himself out of another try at the presidential nomination, but political observers are wondering if he isn't open to persuasion in the wake of his big comeback victory.

Rhodes has been mentioned as a possible vice presidential candidate and there is no reason to believe he would mind going after the top prize.

When the election day dust had settled, the Republicans had taken over 10 states held by Democratic governors and lost two that were in GOP hands.

Swinging into the Republican ranks were Alaska, Arizona, Arkansas, California, Florida, Maryland, Minnesota, Nebraska, Nevada and New Mexico. Lost to the Democrats were Kansas and Maine.

Favors Draft

By Lottery

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara says a national lottery would help eliminate deficiencies of the present draft system. In an interview published in the Harvard Crimson Wednesday, McNamara called the current draft methods unsuitable.

"We draft the oldest first," he said. "It's never clear exactly at what age one will be subject to the draft. This makes very difficult the planning of one's life."

McNamara said every 19-year-old should be subjected to the lottery. At age 19, a young man's name would be drawn from a pool. In case of deferment, McNamara said, his name would go back in the pool at the end of the deferred period.

Infra-Red Devices Aid Detection of Viet Cong

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Electronic devices that can spot cigarettes and belt buckles from an airplane several thousand feet high are being used nightly in Viet Nam to ferret out the Communists, an American military source said today.

The source said the United States is using the latest heat and metal sensing devices to find Viet Cong and North Vietnamese moving under cover of darkness.

The demilitarized zone, called

DMZ, between the two Viet Nams — now a highway for Red troop infiltration southward — is a regular beat for the super snoopers.

The heat detection system uses an infrared-type process and can spot a camp fire or even a dozen soldiers taking a smoke break.

"First they fly over and make a map of an area, for instance the DMZ, when there is nobody there. They know what it should look like then," the source said. "Then the next time they come across the area, they use the earlier map as an overlay on the scope."

"They fly along out of small arms range until something shows up on the scope and if it is not on the overlay, bombers are called in."

"The metal sensing gear is just as sensitive but doesn't even need heat."

"They do the same thing on it. They fly over and make soundings under normal conditions and then later blast anything that is out of place. If there are half a dozen guys down there with belt buckles or knives or guns or anything made of metal, the plane will know it. In come the bombers and boom! No more belt buckles or people either. It's amazing."

The source said that the detection devices are responsible for some bombing raids that American B52s make in areas where there is no reported U.S. military activity.

'LBJ Backlash' Says Goldwater

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Barry Goldwater today called the Republican victories across the nation the result of "an LBJ backlash."

"It was an LBJ backlash that elected Republicans," Goldwater said. "It was a white backlash that benefited Democrats in places like Alabama and Mississippi."

"The Republican gains resulted partly from a backlash against dishonesty in government, runaway inflation, welfare-state socialism and a no-win policy in Viet Nam," Goldwater said.

State GOP Chairman Discusses Victory

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — John S. Andrews, state Republican chairman, said Wednesday, Tuesday's GOP landslide victory in Ohio was "the result of the overwhelming public confidence in the administration of Gov. James A. Rhodes and the outstanding effort and teamwork of Republican candidates and workers throughout the state."

Andrews noted that Republicans won every state office, both state Supreme Court judgeships, 19 of Ohio's 24 congressional seats, and sizeable majorities in both the Ohio Senate and House of Representatives.

"This is one of the greatest victories in the history of the Republican Party in Ohio," Andrews said. "We have won a great victory for good government and for the Republican Party in Ohio. But a great victory carries with it great responsibility. As a party, we accept the challenge to help provide the best government possible at every level—county, state and national."

He said Rhodes' 700,000-vote plurality and his 62.1 per cent victory margin both set new records for gubernatorial elections in Ohio.

CHS Grid Staff Expects Exciting Finale with Raiders

By STEVE JONES

It will be a battle of champions Friday night when the football Tigers of Circleville travel to Reynoldsburg for their final game of the 1966 season.

The Roundtowners are undisputed champs of the South Central Ohio League. Reynoldsburg is a tri-champion in the tough Columbus area Metropolitan loop.

Circleville Coach Paul Starr promises Tiger fans who travel to Reynoldsburg a far more exciting game than they have seen in the past two home tilts.

The new Reynoldsburg High School football field is located on E. Livingston Ave. The last time the Tigers met the Raiders, the game was played at the old high school.

Scouting reports indicate Reynoldsburg has an explosive attack. The quarterback and fullback are considered the key offensive threats.

SHADE, the field general, handles the run-pass option from the T formation. Reports say he does it better than any quarterback the Tigers have faced this year.

Spires, the fullback, is a punishing runner up the middle. Adding balance to the backfield is Wilcox, a halfback.

One of Shade's favorite targets when he elects to pass is Basserman, a 6-2, 195-pound end for the Raiders.

The Reynoldsburg offensive line is as good as any the Tigers have run up against this year, scouts note.

In the rugged Metropolitan League scramble, Reynoldsburg beat Whitehall but lost to Pleasant View. Pleasant View lost to Whitehall.

The Metro race ended in a deadlock with three teams sharing the title.

REYNOLDSBURG, 3-1 in its conference, has a 6-3 overall record this season. The three losses came in the first four games of the season. Since then the Raiders have rolled to five consecutive victories.

The Raiders have never been shutout this season, although twice they were held to just one touchdown.

Their highest scoring game was a 53-0 win over Hamilton Twp.

During the season, Reynoldsburg has met three teams that also appeared on the Circleville schedule.

The Raiders lost to Pleasant View, 14-6. The Red and Black lost to the same squad, 18-0. The Raiders handled Teays Valley, 26-6, while Circleville shutout the Vikings, 34-0.

Reynoldsburg posted a 34-0 decision over Franklin Heights. Circleville beat the Falcons, 30-6.

IN ADDITION, Reynoldsburg lost to Gahanna, 21-12 in an initial game of the season. The Tigers hold an annual scrimmage with the team coached by former CHS griddier, George Troutman, and came out on the best end of the controlled session this year.

Circleville has had a rough week of practice because of the miserable weather and a variety of ailments.

Steve Dade, who has led the Tigers in offense this year, has been out all week. His problem is an infected tooth.

The Circleville coaching staff hopes Dade will be ready for action tomorrow.

On Monday, only 12 players were healthy enough to turn out for practice.

Even the coaching staff has been sick. Jim Lint has been unable to attend practice sessions. The same goes for Dan Fouts.

EVEN coach Starr admits to being "sicker than a dog" for most of the week.

If Dade is unable to play Friday, Tom Wright will see a lot of offensive action. Rick Sims probably will get the nod to play safety on defense.

Otherwise, the Tiger lineup should remain much the same.

At offensive ends, Jim Campbell and Ron Bryant will start. Tackles will be Jim Noel and Craig Lambert both ways. The guards will be Steve Carroll, Doug Smith, Jim Samuel, Jerry Myers, and others, while Dick Thornton will get the bid at center again.

Bob Tootle, Tom Fletcher and Eddie Wells will go in the backfield, along with Dade or Wright.

Defensive ends probably will be Bill Gates and Rod Sines. Tackles and guards will be the same as on offense.

CORNERBACKS are Campbell and Lynn Heath. Wright, Sims or Dade will share the safety positions and Fletcher will be the linebacker.

Assagi, Tom Rolfe Top Threats in International

LAUREL, Md (AP) — Ten hand-picked thoroughbred entries clash Friday on Laurel's grass course in the $150,000 Washington, D.C. International — a 1½-mile test of endurance which in a brief period has taken rank with the world's greatest horse races.

Two of the field — Assagi, leading American grass course performer owned by world platinum king Charles Engelhard, and Tom Rolfe from the Powhatan barons of Ambassador to Ireland Raymond Guest — have been made the pre-race favorites to break the deadlock between the foreign countries and the United States.

Each has won seven times, with France's Diatome squaring the series last year when the tri- one-two ahead of America's Roman Brother.

Post time is 3:45 p.m., EST. Victory will be worth $90,000, with the owners not out one cent. All expenses are paid by Laurel. The foreign horses were selected by John D. Schapiro, president of the track. The Americans were picked by a panel of sports writers.

Numerically, France will have the strongest representation. The French, which have won the International four times, will send out Prince Karim Aga Khan's Silver Shark, Martin Fabiani's Vasco de Gama and Alex Weisweiler's Behistoun. All are 3-year-olds.

Russia's Aniline and Canada's George Royal, both 5-year-olds, are back for a second crack at the rich prize.

Rounding out the field will be England's David Jack, a 3-year-old owned by Jack Fisher, operator of a London women's fashion wear company; Venezuela's Socopo, who got a last hour invitation after winning the Grand Premio Clasico Simon Bolivar a Caraca and Antonio Carlos Amorin's Folio of Brazil.

Clay Edged In Battle Of Mouths

HOUSTON (AP) — Cassius Clay says he has found a man who talks too much.

The heavyweight champion was referring to Hugh Benbow, manager of Cleveland Williams, who challenges Clay for the heavyweight title in a scheduled 15-round Monday night in the Astrodome.

"Benbow talks too much, man, and I have to take it out on you when I really want him," Clay told Williams during a preliminary physical examination.

"You don't have to worry about that," Williams answered. "I'll be there."

Clay and Williams were about even in the battle of the mouths until Benbow, a Houston oilman-rancher, arrived and took up his fighter's cause.

Benbow hurled insults at the grinning Clay throughout the rest of the ceremonies.

"You're scared to death," Benbow yelled at Clay. "For the first time you're fighting somebody who won't lay down when you tell them to. Old as I am I could whip you in an honest fight."

Clay just smiled and continued to tease Williams.

Dr. Arthur Moers, state appointed ring physician, examined the two men Wednesday and declared them in top physical condition. Clay weighed 209 and the challenger 216½.

TOKYO (AP) — Effervescent George Knudson of Canada smashed the Yomiuri course record with a sensational 64 today as he led his team into first place in the opening round of the four-day 14th annual Canada Cup competition, golf's biggest international show.

Knudson's 34-30 was eight strokes under par for the hilly, 6,962-yard course, and one better than the links mark set by the home pro, big Hideyo Sugimoto of Japan.

Close on Knudson's heels for individual honors came Sugimoto, Arnold Palmer of the United States and Kel Nagle of Australia, all with 66s.

Is High School Grid Supremacy Shifting South?

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Football supremacy enjoyed the last two decades by northeast Ohio scholastic teams may be shifting to other sections of the state.

At least a trio of Columbus area schools and others in southwest Ohio could make that claim.

Such schools as Columbus Watsonson (9-0), Columbus Eastmoor (9-0), Upper Arlington (9-0), Hamilton Garfield (8-0) and Cincinnati Elder (8-1) undoubtedly would support that contention.

But Marv Moorehead, coach at No. 1 ranked Upper Arlington, has another theory.

"I've never been convinced that any one section has a monopoly on good players or good teams. Cincinnati has had good teams for years but you never hear much from that area," Moorehead said.

"I think the northeast emphasizes football more than other locales and perhaps they're a bit more vociferous than schools in the south."

Moorehead, 39, another in a long line of Miami (Ohio) products, faces the biggest challenge of his 16-year coaching career Friday.

The top-ranked Golden Bears collide with unbeaten Watterson, ranked fifth, in a conflict that could determine the mythical state championship.

"Rankings are nice but Friday night is the only thing that counts," Moorehead said.

"The only poll we're interested in comes out next week." The Associated Press final rankings will be announced Wednesday.

In the 20-year history of the AP poll, no school from outside the northern sector has ever won a championship.

Massillon is king with 11 titles, Canton McKinley and Niles have two each; and Barberton, Cleveland Benedictine, Alliance and Toledo Central Catholic have topped the list once.

Arlington, riding a 28-game winning skein, took over the No. 1 spot this week after previously unbeaten and top-rated Steubenville fell to Massillon last Friday 12-0.

The Golden Bears whipped Massillon three weeks ago by two touchdowns and thoroughly vanquished the proud Tigers.

Moorehead, in 12 years at Arlington, has registered an impressive 85-22-3 record.

"The caliber of football played in central Ohio is top-notch," Moorehead said. "Both the city league teams and the Catholic schools we have played give us fits."

Junior High Cage League Play Opens

The Pickaway County Junior High Cage League got under way Wednesday afternoon with four games being played.

Ashville, defending league champion, dominated Pickaway, 56-7. Van Gregg tossed in 18 points for the winners.

Walnut, behind a 29-point effort by Robert Tucker, notched a 74-21 win over Jackson.

Washington edged Salt Creek, 32-30, in a real overtime thriller.

SCIO posted a 48-25 win over Monroe to wrap up action.

Harness Racing Congress To Discuss Rules, Licensing at 5-Day Meeting

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A uniform system of licensing and rules are among the topics expected to be discussed here when the third annual Harness Racing Congress opens a five-day meeting Friday.

More than 350 harness racing officials will participate in the talks headed by a national conference of harness racing commissioners and the annual meeting of the 45-man board of directors of the United States Trotting Association.

The Congress, usually held in December, was moved up this year to avoid the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays.

In addition to the annual sessions of the commissioners and the USTA directors, the Congress scheduled includes full-scale meetings of Harness Tracks of America, the Harness Racing Institute, the Grand Circuit, the Society of North American Harness Racing Secretaries and the Harness Racing Publicists Association.

Subjects scheduled for discussion at the day-long commissioners conference on Saturday include security, liaison between all commissions, the USTA and the HTA and the development of officials.

USTA directors are scheduled for a Monday meeting and a Tuesday morning session that will wind up the Congress.

CHS Grid Staff Expects Exciting Finale with Raiders

By STEVE JONES

It will be a battle of champions Friday night when the football Tigers of Circleville travel to Reynoldsburg for their final game of the 1966 season.

The Roundtowners are undisputed champs of the South Central Ohio League. Reynoldsburg is a tri-champion in the tough Columbus area Metropolitan loop.

Circleville Coach Paul Starr promises Tiger fans who travel to Reynoldsburg a far more exciting game than they have seen in the past two home tilts.

The new Reynoldsburg High School football field is located on E. Livingston Ave. The last time the Tigers met the Raiders, the game was played at the old high school.

Scouting reports indicate Reynoldsburg has an explosive attack. The quarterback and fullback are considered the key offensive threats.

SHADE, the field general, handles the run-pass option from the T formation. Reports

Knudson Lead Is Pacesetter In Canada Cup

TOKYO (AP) — Effervescent George Knudson of Canada smashed the Yomiuri course record with a sensational 64 to-day as he led his team into first place in the opening round of the four-day 14th annual Canada Cup competition, golf's biggest international show.

Knudson's 34-30 was eight strokes under par for the hilly, 6,962-yard course, and one better than the links mark set by the home pro, big Hideyo Sugi-moto of Japan.

Close on Knudson's heels for individual honors came Sugimoto, Arnold Palmer of the United States and Kel Nagle of Australia, all with 66s.

say he does it better than any quarterback the Tigers have faced this year.

Spikes, the fullback, is a punishing runner up the middle. Adding balance to the backfield is Wilcox, a halfback.

One of Shade's favorite targets when he elects to pass is Basserman, a 6-2, 195-pound end for the Raiders.

The Reynoldsburg offensive line is as good as any the Tigers have run up against this year, scouts note.

In the rugged Metropolitan League scramble, Reynoldsburg beat Whitehall but lost to Pleasant View. Pleasant View lost to Whitehall.

The Metro race ended in a deadlock with three teams sharing the title.

REYNOLDSBURG, 3-1 in its conference, has a 6-3 overall record this season. The three losses came in the first four games of the season. Since then the Raiders have rolled to five consecutive victories.

The Raiders have never been shutout this season, although twice they were held to just one touchdown.

Gama and Alex Weisweiler's Behistoun. All are 3-year-olds.

Russia's Aniline and Canada's George Royal, both 5-year-olds, are back for a second crack at the rich prize.

Rounding out the field will be England's David Jack, a 3-year-old owned by Jack Fisher, operator of a London women's fashion wear company; Venezuela's Socopo, who got a last hour invitation after winning the Grand Premio Clasico Simon Bolivar a Caracas and Antonio Carlos Amorin's Folio de Brazil.

Clay Edged In Battle Of Mouths

HOUSTON (AP) — Cassius Clay says he has found a man who talks too much.

The heavyweight champion was referring to Hugh Benbow, manager of Cleveland Williams, who challenges Clay for the heavyweight title in a scheduled 15-round Monday night in the Astrodome.

"Benbow talks too much, man, and I have to take it out on you when I really want him," Clay told Williams during a preliminary physical examination.

"You don't have to worry about that," Williams answered. "I'll be there."

Clay and Williams were about even in the battle of the mouths until Benbow, a Houston oilman-rancher, arrived and took up his fighter's cause.

Benbow hurled insults at the grinning Clay throughout the rest of the ceremonies.

"You're scared to death," Benbow yelled at Clay. "For the first time you're fighting somebody who won't lay down when you tell them to. Old as I am I could whip you in an honest fight."

Clay just smiled and continued to tease Williams.

Dr. Arthur Moers, state appointed ring physician, examined the two men Wednesday and declared them in top physical condition. Clay weighed 209 and the challenger 216½.

Their highest scoring game was a 53-0 win over Hamilton Twp.

During the season, Reynoldsburg has met three teams that also appeared on the Circleville schedule.

The Raiders lost to Pleasant View, 14-6. The Red and Black lost to the same squad, 18-0. The Raiders handled Teays Valley, 26-6, while Circleville shutout the Vikings, 34-0.

Reynoldsburg posted a 34-0 decision over Franklin Heights. Circleville beat the Falcons, 30-6.

IN ADDITION, Reynoldsburg lost to Gahanna, 21-12 in an initial game of the season. The Tigers hold an annual scrimmage with the team coached by former CHS griddler, George Troutman, and came out on the best end of the controlled session this year.

Circleville has had a rough week of practice because of the miserable weather and a variety of ailments.

Steve Dade, who has led the Tigers in offense this year, has been out all week. His problem is an infected tooth.

The Circleville coaching staff hopes Dade will be ready for action tomorrow.

On Monday, only 12 players were healthy enough to turn out for practice.

Even the coaching staff has been sick. Jim Lint has been unable to attend practice sessions. The same goes for Dan Fouts.

EVEN coach Starr admits to being "sicker than a dog" for most of the week.

If Dade is unable to play Friday, Tom Wright will see a lot of offensive action. Rick Sims probably will get the nod to play safety on defense.

Otherwise, the Tiger lineup should remain much the same.

At offensive ends, Jim Campbell and Ron Bryant will start. Tackles will be Jim Noel and Craig Lambert both ways. The guards will be Steve Carroll, Doug Smith, Jim Samuel, Jerry Myers, and others, while Dick Thornton will get the bid at center again.

Bob Tootle, Tom Fletcher and Eddie Wells will go in the backfield, along with Dade or Wright.

Defensive ends probably will be Bill Gates and Rod Sines. Tackles and guards will be the same as on offense.

CORNERBACKS are Campbell and Lynn Heath. Wright, Sims or Dade will share the safety positions and Fletcher will be the linebacker.

Ethiopian Boy Gets Ovation as Cross-Country Champ

CLEVELAND (AP) — If it ever snows in Ethiopia, Tekie Ghebremedhin will have an edge on other runners.

He's the Ohio Class A individual division Cross-Country champ and never saw the white stuff until he came to nearby Avon High.

Now he has a little gold shoe, the key to the city and lots of pleasant memories.

Tekie, an 18-year-old American Field Service Exchange Service student from Asmara, Ethiopia, won the little shoe by racing over the soggy, snow-splashed Ohio State Golf Course Saturday in 10:59, well ahead of the pack.

The 5-foot-10, 146-pound junior saw snow for the first time last week.

"I like to see it falling," he said Wednesday. "My feet were a little cold during the race," he said. "But the difficult thing was my hands. They froze."

Tekie was a half-miler in Ethiopia and used to running on straightaways—in the sunshine. But Conrad Adler, cross country coach at Avon, asked him to come out. So he did.

How he got to Columbus is another story.

Tekie was among the 140 other AFS students from northern Ohio who went to see Henry Ford's Greenfield Village Museum in Dearborn, Mich., over the weekend.

The Avon High students wanted to make sure he got to the track meet. They collected enough money for a plane trip.

Tekie toured the museum, then caught a plane from Detroit Friday night and was ready to go Saturday. He won the meet, then flew back to Detroit to catch up with the tour.

The best was yet to come.

Tekie lives in Avon with Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Wagar. They purposely drove him to school late Monday. He was told to get a tardy slip and report to the gymnasium for "discipline."

He went to the gym—to be greeted by the student body, the band and the mayor.

"I was surprised," he said. "I didn't know that was coming."

The mayor gave him a key to the city. It goes well with the little gold shoe.

Browns' Casualty List Includes Groza, Barnes

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Browns casualty list keeps growing and Coach Blanton Collier keeps juggling.

Collier was shifting players to new position after Lou Groza and Erich Barnes were injured Wednesday.

Groza, the Browns' kicking specialist, suffered a back muscle spasm while working on a blocking machine and Barnes, a defensive back, sprained an ankle.

Both may be ready for the Philadelphia Eagles Sunday but Collier is making adjustments—just in case. Defensive back Bobby Franklin will take the short field goal and extra point chores and rookie end Mort Morin could kick off.

Walter Beach, also a defensive back, probably would take over Barnes' spot. Beach also has been injured—a calf muscle pull—but may be ready for duty.

The most serious casualty is center John Morrow, who will be out at least a month with a small bone fracture in his leg. Fred Hoaglin is on the Browns' cab squad and likely will be activated before the end of the week.

Hoaglin, a 6-foot-4, 250-pounder, saw action during the exhibition season.

Flanker Gary Collins and Paul Warfield also are among the wounded. Both have muscle pulls.

Administration...

opposed to Johnson's "Great Society" programs.

Actor Ronald Reagan, who furnished the GOP with a glittering victory in the California governor's race, attributed his success largely to discontent over what he called excessive welfare and government costs, as well as the loss of local government responsibility.

In Florida, GOP Gov.-elect Claude Kirk Jr.'s victory appeared based on Viet Nam war frustrations, racial disturbances and opposition to Johnson's programs.

In his own state of Texas Johnson's prestige failed to halt the re-election of Republican Sen. John G. Tower over Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr, favored both by the President and his good friend, Gov. John Connally. Democrats also lost two Texas House seats to the Republicans.

The President's labor allies took a thumping in Michigan. There GOP Gov. George Romney not only boosted his presidential nomination aspirations by winning a third term but pulled Republican Sen. Robert P. Griffin into office for an elective term over six-time Gov. G. Mennen Williams, who quit a State Department post to make the race.

Romney, when asked when he might make a decision on the possibility of seeking the presidential nomination, replied with a smile: "I will let you know."

The news was generally bad for Johnson's party in the Midwest. Michigan, Ohio, Iowa and Wisconsin all contributed to Republican House gains. Illinois turned out veteran liberal Democratic Sen. Paul H. Douglas, a strong supporter of the "Great Society," replacing him with Republican Charles H. Percy.

Percy, 47, promptly figured in speculation about 1968 GOP presidential and vice presidential possibilities. But the industrialist said, "I look forward to staying with my new job. I have no plans for 1968 or 1972."

Although they lost the governor's office in Kansas, Republicans reclaimed it in Nebraska and Minnesota. In the latter case, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, the Democrats' most active campaigner, lost his home-state political base.

Humphrey conceded that internal strife hurt Minnesota's Democratic - Farmer - Labor party, but predicted the party

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather:

Cloudiness, mild temperatures and occasional light rain or showers prevailed in Ohio early in this morning. Temperatures registered near 60 or in the 60s. This included Toledo 59, Cleveland 63, and Cincinnati 63, and Marietta 64.

Temperatures today will range from about 30 northwest to the lower 40s southeast tonight.

Dry weather but partly cloudy to cloudy skies and temperatures in the 40s are forecast for Friday.

he helped form in the 1940s would bounce back in 1968.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's re-election to a third term prompted speculation he might be interested in again bidding for the GOP presidential nomination. But Rockefeller repeated Wednesday he would not seek the nomination.

The President could take comfort from the fact that his Viet Nam war policies were not successfully attacked as such. Democratic supporters of his limited warfare course won senatorial races in New Hampshire, Rhode Island, New Mexico, Oklahoma and West Virginia.

These moves more than offset the election of a couple of GOP advocates of greater peace efforts — Percy in Illinois and Gov. Mark O. Hatfield, who won a Senate seat in Oregon.

Nixon said in a statement that Hanoi and Peking should not misread the election results. "The new House of Representatives will be much stronger than its predecessor as the bulwark of support of the United States policy of no reward for aggression," he said.

The postmaster explained that parcels weighing five pounds or less and not exceeding the length and girth requirements, mailed at surface rates, will be moved by surface transportation within the United States to the ports of embarkation.

To speed up separation and delivery of smaller parcels falling within this category, Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien has directed that all be clearly marked upon acceptance at the post office with letters SAM (surface airlift mail).

Italians Push Flood Relief

ROME (AP) — Spurred by criticism and appeals, the Italian nation stepped up emergency efforts today to help the country's flood zones.

President Giuseppe Saragat called on all Italians to join in a "pact of brotherhood which, within the limits of human efforts, will overcome the anguish, suffering, pain and needs" of victims in the disaster areas of northern and central Italy.

Labor unions called on their members to contribute up to a day's pay for flood relief. The government, accused by Communists and the deputy mayor of Florence of moving too slowly, ordered round-the-clock truck convoys to carry food, medicine and supplies to Florence.

In Florence, art treasure city of 450,000, the rehabilitation efforts seven days after the Arno River overflowed, was making only crawling progress in the face of the vast damage and disruption.

Rotting debris, human waste from wrecked sewers and decaying bodies of rodents in swamped cellars created a choking stench. Residents and emergency forces were working in streets slimy with mud.

Some electricity had been restored and communications with the outside were workable. But in nearly every other respect Florence was still a paralyzed city.

Dr. Ugo Procacci, superintendent of the city's galleries, estimated that 1,300 art masterpieces had been damaged. "We calculate that to restore everything will take at least 20 years," he said.

opposed to Johnson's "Great Society" programs.

Actor Ronald Reagan, who furnished the GOP with a glittering victory in the California governor's race, attributed his success largely to discontent over what he called excessive welfare and government costs, as well as the loss of local government responsibility.

In Florida, GOP Gov-elect Claude Kirk Jr.'s victory appeared based on Viet Nam war frustrations, racial disturbances and opposition to Johnson's programs.

In his own state of Texas Johnson's prestige failed to halt the re-election of Republican Sen. John G. Tower over Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr, favored both by the President and his good friend, Gov. John Connally. Democrats also lost two Texas House seats to the Republicans.

The President's labor allies took a thumping in Michigan. There GOP Gov. George Romney not only boosted his presidential nomination aspirations by winning a third term but pulled Republican Sen. Robert P. Griffin into office for an elective term over six-term Gov. G. Mennen Williams, who quit a State Department post to make the race.

Romney, when asked when he might make a decision on the possibility of seeking the presidential nomination, replied with a smile: "I will let you know."

The news was generally bad for Johnson's party in the Midwest. Michigan, Ohio, Iowa and Wisconsin all contributed to Republican House gains. Illinois turned over veteran liberal Democratic Sen. Paul H. Douglas, a strong supporter of the "Great Society," replacing him with Republican Charles H. Percy.

Percy, 47, promptly figured in speculation about 1968 GOP presidential and vice presidential possibilities. But the industrialist said, "I look forward to staying with my new job. I have no plans for 1968 or 1972."

Although they lost the governor's office in Kansas, Republicans reclaimed it in Nebraska and Minnesota. In the latter case, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, the Democrats' most active campaigner, lost his home-state political base.

Humphrey conceded that internal strife hurt Minnesota's Democratic - Farmer - Labor party, but predicted the party
